

October 6, 2015

Randy:

My daughter is badly crippled by reason of a botched operation on her feet. She suffers from a form of neuropathy with symptoms similar to diabetes. We went to arthropod seeking help to reverse the first operation. We found a foot specialist (MD) in Lubbock who is slowly but surely restoring her health. As far as I am concerned about the only thing the Affordable Health Care Act has done for us is to make her insurance portable so that it will pay for these desperately needed surgeries in Lubbock, Texas.

If you run into Jim Townsend he will bear this out.

Joel Carson II